

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

INTRODUCTION.

THE following pages contain lists, first, of the names of the French and other refugees who, in 1622, were resident in St. Martin's-le-Grand in London, or were engaged in the trades of cutlers (for which they made the metropolis famous, as it still remains), joiners, ceelers,^a carvers, and tallow-chandlers; and also of the foreigners who were then resident in the principal places of refuge in England, viz. Canterbury, Maidstone, the Cinque Ports, Norwich, and Colchester; and, secondly, of those refugees who came into this country between the years 1678 and 1688, during the troubles preceding and immediately following the revocation of the Edict of Nantes, and to whom free letters of denization were granted by Charles II. and James II.

It is a matter for regret that we have not in England any work giving the personal history and particulars of the refugees, similar to the work published between the years 1782-1799, in reference to those who settled in Prussia.^b Many circumstances have combined to cause the number in England to be less than in Holland and in Prussia; but there are sufficient in numbers and in importance to render such a volume very interesting. Indeed, as the proportion of the nobles, gentry, and other commoners, who can boast of a royal descent from our Edwards is very large, so also is the proportion of the commoners in the middle and working classes in whose veins flows the blood of the refugees. MR. J. S. BURN has noticed a few in his History of the Protestant Refugees settled in England, with particulars of the places in which they settled; and the contributors to the Ulster Journal of Archæology have followed up the subject, so far as relates to the settlements in Ireland; but the settlers in Ireland came principally after the Revolution of 1688, and the chief portion arrived from Holland, whilst the lists which I now print are of those who remained after the death of Elizabeth, or fled to this country prior to the reign of William and Mary. It will be seen that several families still of note here were founded by these immigrants.

The circumstances under which the first portion of these lists was returned were these. After the accession of James I. the prosecution of the Protestants abroad had very much abated, and those who had found an asylum in this country had extended their means of livelihood from the manufactories they had superintended to many retail trades. In London alone in 1621 there were stated to be 10,000 strangers,^a and they had been carrying on 121 different trades.^b Several, in spite of the statutes of 1st Rich. III. and 14 and 15 Hen. VIII. against receiving apprentices and servants, employed more than two journeymen or four servants who were not the King's subjects; submitted to no regulations as to the number of their apprentices; and frequented fairs and markets, paying less dues than the freemen.

The complaints made against the industry of the aliens and their use of machinery are instructive even at this day^c:—

^b Ib. 1616, vol. xviii. No. 113.

^c Ib. vol. lxxxviii. No. 112.

" Their chiefest cause of entertainment here of late was in charity to shroud them from persecution for religion; and, beinge here, their necessity became the mother of their ingenuitie in devising manye trades before to us unknowne.

The State, noting their diligence, and yet preventinge the future inconvenience, enacted two speciall lawes:—

That they should enterteine Englishe apprentices and servants to learne these trades, the neglect whereof giveth them advantage to keepe their misteries to themselves, which hath made them bould of late to devise engines for workinge of tape, lace, ribbin, and such, wherein one man doth more amonge them then 7 Englishe men can doe; soe as their cheape sale of those comodities beggereth all our Englishe artificers of that trade and enricheth them.

Since the makeing of the last statute they are thought to be increased ten for one, so as no tenement is left to an Englishe artificer to inhabite in divers parts of the cytie and suburbs, but they take them over their heads at a greate rate.

Soe their numbers causeth the enhauncing of the prises of vittells and houserents, and much furthereth the late disorderly new buildings, which is soe burdonous to the subject that his Majestie hath not any worke to performe for the good of his comons (especially in citties and townes) then by the taking of the benefitt of the law upon them, a thing which is don against his owne subjects be comon informers. But their daylie flocking hither without such remedie is like to grow scarce tollerable."

It would seem however that the complaints were not very well founded; for, though the trades were numerous, the weavers, merchants, tailors, sleave-makers, shoemakers, dyers, brewers, diamond cutters, jewellers, and goldsmiths formed the majority.

The complaints had commenced early in the King's reign. On 22nd July, 1605, it was alleged that the English merchants were injured because foreigners were allowed to export baize and other goods without paying double custom,^b and the Lord Treasurer (Dorset) thought the granting of denization to strangers so prejudicial to the crown that he declined making out thirty denizations till he had consulted with the Council.^c Sir George Waldegrave suggested to Salisbury^d various restrictions to be laid on aliens and recusants. In April, 1606, a bill was prepared to compel merchant strangers who were naturalized to employ all the money received in imports on goods for exportation;^e and in the next year a double duty was imposed upon baize as upon cloth^f exported.

At the same time encouragement was given to the extension of manufactures here. The "New Drapery" was set up at Hatfield, Herts; the planting of mulberry trees for the sake of the growth of silk was especially favoured^g; whilst, on 27th Nov. 1610, a licence was granted to the East India Company^h to admit merchant strangers into their society to trade and have the same privileges as natives of England.

Yet the citizens of London were strong in their representations of the grievances of the freemen by reason of the artizans and tradesmen who engrossed the Dutch and French trade.^a A committee was appointed in July 1615 to consider the grievances caused by aliens; and the Weavers' Company of London^b certified that the strangers employed more workmen than were allowed by statute, and then concealed them when search was made; that they lived more cheaply, and therefore sold more cheaply, than the English; that they imported silk lace contrary to law, and engrossed the custom to foreigners; and the Company suggested that, the wars and persecutions which drove them to England being over, they should be compelled to return;^c whilst others (as we have seen) complained that they multiplied so fast as to enhance the price of provisions, lodging, &c., and, by their ingenious machinery, usurped the trade from the English.^d

To enable the Council to judge of these complaints an Order in Council was passed on 6th Sept. 1618, requiring a return of the strangers dwelling in London and its liberties, with the places of their birth and under what sovereignty they depended; and we have returns made by the City, and by the constables of St. Saviour's, St. Olave, St. George, the Clink, and St. Mary Magdalen Ber-

^b Ib. 1615, No. 56.

^c The hostility went so far, that, in 1616 (Ib. No. 74), the council refused to allow Paul Zimmerman, a denizen, to erect a house within the city for refining sugar, although there were few Englishmen in the trade, and his application was supported by the Grocers' Company, the Attorney-General having decided that the erection of sugar houses by aliens would prejudice the refiners of the city. mondsey, as well as of Newington and Lambeth.^a These returns resulted in no good to the complainants, who renewed in 1621 their statement of the inconvenience arising from the great influx of strangers, and proposals were made for a yearly registry, for exacting quarterage according to their station, for forbidding the use of retail trades, for the regulation of the number of apprentices, and for restricting their use of fairs and markets;^b and, on 30th July, 1621, a commission was issued to the newly appointed Lord Keeper (John Williams), the Lord High Treasurer (Lionel Lord Cranfield), the Attorney-General (Sir Thomas Coventry), Solicitor-General (Sir Robert Heath), and others, to consider of the statutes concerning aliens, and either to induce them to conform with the laws already in force, especially regarding not selling by retail and the use of handicraft trades, or to modify the laws for the better convenience of strangers and good of the subject, under such directions as his Majesty should from time to time prescribe. And on the same day directions were given by the King to the Commissioners to take a yearly account of all aliens resident in England, to permit all wholesale merchants to continue their trade, but to restrain all retailers, unless they would submit to restrictions as to servants and apprentices, and pay quarterage as the English in their several companies did. None who were servants to the English were to be taxed, except for registration, but all were to give bond to keep these orders, or else depart the realm; and all refractory persons were to be dealt with according to law. In January, 1622,^c the Goldsmiths' Company complained of 183 alien Goldsmiths for making counterfeit jewels and engrossing trade, so that the goldsmiths were impoverished, and meaner trades had crept into Goldsmiths' Row in Cheapside and Lombard Street. The Coopers' Company complained of the number of aliens employed as coopers by foreign brewers. The Clockmakers pressed upon the Council the number and deceitful tricks of foreigners practising their trade, and prayed that they might not be allowed to work except for English masters, and that no foreign clocks might be imported; and the Leatherdressers represented the injury to their business by the Dutch, who employed their countrymen to work as journeymen without serving an apprenticeship. The Brokers and Warehousemen were also singled out for attack, and were directed to attend the Commissioners. On 11th March the Cutlers were summoned; and the Clothworkers and Dyers asserted that they were likewise injured. On 7th September the Commissioners ordered that, as the retailing of English goods by strangers was hurtful to home trade, all strangers selling to strangers English goods should pay half the duty on such commodities as would be paid for custom on export; and that all strangers selling English goods to any person should pay half the customs thereon; but little further took place. Any restrictions upon the refugees were unpopular with the mass of the people, however desirable they might appear to the chartered companies.

^a Ib. vol. xcix. Nos. 22-4, 42-7, and vol. cxviii. The names in the London returns in 1618 are printed in the Appendix (post, p. 60), to make the lists more complete.

One of the consequences of the appointment of the Commission was the returns made in March, 1621-2, and April and June, 1622, which we now print, and which were made in obedience to the orders of the Attorney and Solicitor-General.

The ports and towns in which Cecil had directed an examination of strangers in Oct. 1571 were London, in which there were 4631 strangers, Colchester, Harwich, Ipswich, Yarmouth, Norwich, the Cinque Ports, including Rye, in which there were 641 persons,^a Southampton, and Boston. Canterbury and Maidstone were not mentioned in Cecil's order, but they were offsets from Sandwich or Winchelsea—the bay and say trade remaining at Sandwich, whilst the silk went to Canterbury about 1561, and the thread to Maidstone soon after.^b In the returns now printed Harwich, Ipswich,^c Boston,^d Yarmouth, and Southampton do not appear. Possibly no permanent settlements had been then made in the three first-named towns, as they are not mentioned by Mr. Burn, and that the residents in Yarmouth and Southampton were in 1622 very few. Mr. Burn has given fully the account of the settlement in the other towns which made returns.

It is not very easy to trace the descendants of the bulk of these settlers, who had come in the days of Elizabeth and her predecessors; but, by the kindness of T. W. King, Esq. F.S.Å. York Herald, I am able to give a list of all such families as had their pedigrees or arms recorded in the Visitations of London.

In the Visitation of London, 1634 (MS. Coll. Arms, c. 24), we find the following persons:—

NICHOLAS ABEELS of London; merchant, grandson of Nicholas A. of Rouselaer in Flanders, farrier to the Emperor of Germany. Ped. and arms (p. 221).

PHILIP BARLAMAELIE of London; son of Michael B., and grandson of Francisco B. Ped. and arms (p. 41).

^a This list, with other particulars of the refugees in Sussex, has been printed in the Sussex Arch. Coll. vol. xiii. p. 180. See also Holloway's Hist. of Rye.

^b Burn, pp. 33, 202.

^c For the settlement in Ipswich, see post, p. xx.

^d No notice is made of Walloons or French settlers in Boston by Mr. Pishey Thompson in his History, 2nd ed. 1856.

ANTHONY BASSANO of London, gent.; grandson of Anthony B. a Venetian. Ped. and arms (p. 152).

ABRAHAM BEE of London, merchant; son of Garlah B. of Aucon in Germany. Ped. and arms (p. 28).

JACOB BLOME of London; grandson of Nicholas B. of Amsterdam. Ped. and arms (p. 241).

PETER BULTEEL of London, merchant; son of James B. of Tourney in Henalt. Ped. and arms (p. 300).

PETER CHAMBERLAINE of London, doctor in physick; eldest son of Peter C. of London, practitioner in physick, son of William C. of Paris in France, who fled into England at the massacre; a younger son of . . . C. of Tankerville in Normandy, who had twenty-two sons and one daughter. Ped. and arms (p. 558). The pedigree is continued in the next Visitation of London, 1664. See also Munk's Roll of the Royal College of Physicians, i. 458.

WILLIAM CONRADUS of London, vintener; grandson of Frederick C. of Lubeck, a Hans town in Germany. Ped. and arms (p. 346.)

SIR THOMAS COTEEL of London, Knt.; grandson of Anthony C. of Antwerp, merchant, whose evidences were burnt at the sacking thereof, about a° 1567. Ped. and arms (p. 259).

TIMOTHY CRUSO (see post, p. 20) of London, merchant, son of John C. of Norwich, and grandson of Henry C. of Hownescoat in Flanders. Ped. and arms (p. 427). He married the daughter of John Pyrot; by whom he had a son, John Cruso of Norwich, who married Jane daughter of Giles Verlincke; and by her he had issue John his eldest son; Timothy Cruso of London, merchant, 2nd son, who was living in 1634, and who married Katherine daughter of Charles Planter in Flanders; 3, Aquila; 4, Anthony; and Prescilla. Timothy had issue, Timothy his eldest son, John, Petronella, Rebecca, and Sarah. In Jones's Brecknockshire, vol. ii. p. 746, a John Cruso, LL.D., is mentioned as Chancellor of St. David's in 1665, and was a native of Yarmouth. He died in 1681, leaving a widow and several children. His will was proved at Brecon. (Ex inf. T. W. King, York Herald.)

JAQUES DE BEST of London, merchant; son of Jaques de B. of Bruges in Flanders. Ped. and arms (p. 333).

JOHN DE LA BARR of London, merchant; grandson of Loys de la B. of Monz in Henalt in Flanders. Ped. and arms (p. 6 b).

JEAN DE LILLIERS (see post, p. 8) of London, merchant; son of Jean de L. of Canterbury (p. 7).

JACOB LUCIE of London, merchant; son of John L. of London, merchant, and of Antwerp (p. 23).

II. The first three pages (27, 28, 29) of the second class of lists refer to those travellers of the Roman Catholic faith who made returns of their residences to the Secretary of State pursuant to the following amended Order in Council, made on 19th November, 1678, in consequence of the former proclamation of 30th October having been thought to deprive merchant strangers carrying on trade in London and Westminster of the privileges they had up to that time enjoyed. For copies of this minute, and of the minute of 28th July, 1681, I am indebted to the kindness of Robert Lemon, jun., Esq.

At the COURT at WHITEHALL, Tuesday, the 19th of November, 1678.
Present, the King's Most Excellent Ma^{ty} in Council.

Whereas His Ma^{ty}, by his late Royall Proclamation, bearing date the 30th day of October last, did strictly charge and command all persons being Popish Recusants, or so reputed, to depart and retire themselves and their families on or before the 7th day of this instant November from His Ma^{ty}'s Royall Palaces of Whitehall, Somerset House, St. James's, the Citys of London and Westm^r, and from all other places within Ten miles distance of the same, His Ma^{ty}, upon further considerac^on, was graciously pleased to declare in Council, That the said Proclamation was not meant to extend to any Merchants Strangers of the Romish Religion residing in or near this city upon account of Trade, who in all times past have had y^e freedome of remaying here, so as they give in their names and places of habitation respectively to the Lord Mayor of the City of London within six dayes after notice of this order;^a neither to strangers

(other then Popish Priests and Jesuits), who out of curiosity come into this Kingdome as Travellers, so as they give in their names, together with the Places where they lodge, within six dayes after the date of these presents, after their arrival here, to one of His Ma^{ties} Principall Secretaries of State. But that such Merchants Strangers and Forrainers as aforesaid have the same Liberty of residing at or coming to the Places above mentioned, as if the aforesaid Proclamation had never been issued. And of this His Ma^{ties} pleasure as well the Lord Mayor of the City of London for y^e time being as His Ma^{ties} Principall Sec^{ry} of State are to take notice, and to enter y^e names of such Merch^{ts} Strangers and Forrain^{rs} accordingly, in a Booke to be kept for that purpose.

The remainder of the lists refers to the Protestants who fled from France during the years 1681-1688, in consequence of the troubles there.

In the Correspondence of HENRY SAVILE (published by our Society in 1858) many references are made to the renewed persecutions of the Protestants in France. On 5th June, 1679, he told his brother, Viscount Halifax, that the French Protestants trembled for fear of some violent persecution, and were ready to go to England in such vast numbers as would be of great advantage to the nation, if, by ready naturalization, it could be made easy to them; the crowd and the number talking of nothing but the necessity of the King declaring himself Protector of the whole Protestant religion, and living in hopes of seeing that glorious day. On 22nd July, 1681, he pressed the matter yet more strongly on Secretary Sir Leoline Jenkins, and declared that, with the hopes of naturalization, a considerable number of wealthy people, ready with great sums, would come over, and he had prepared a body of men that would have brought the manufacture of sail-cloth, so much wanted in England. The Ministers warmly supported these proposals; a subscription, under Royal letters, was opened; and, after the report of a Committee to the King in Council, on 28th July, 1681, the following order for granting free letters of denization was agreed to by the Council:

At the Court at HAMPTON COURT, this 28th day of July, 1681, Present, the King's Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

His Ma^{ty}, by His Ord^r in Councill of y^e 21st of July instant, having been graciously pleased to referre a Memorial p^rsented to His Ma^{ty} in behalf of y^e distressed Protestants abroad, to y^e considerac^on of y^e Rt^h Hon^{ble} y^e L^{ds} Com^{tees} of this Board for trade and plantac^ons, wth direcc^ons to report their opinion thereupon; and their Lo^{ps} having this day made their report to His Ma^{ty} in Councill, His Ma^{ty}, upon due considerac^on thereof had, was pleased to declare, that he holdes himselfe obliged in honour and conscience to comfort and support all such afflicted Protestants, who, by reason of y^e rigours and severitys which are vs^d towards them upon y^e account of their religion, shall be forced to quitt their native country, and shall desire to shelter themselves under His Ma^{ty}'s Royall protection for y^e preservac^on and free exercise of their religion. And in order hereunto His Ma^{ty} was pleased further to declare, that he will grant unto every such distressed Protestant who shall come hither for refuge, and reside here, His Letters of Denization under the Greate Seale without any charge whatsoever, and likewise such further priviledges and imunitys, as are consistent with the Laws, for the liberty and free exercise of their trades and handicrafts, and that His Ma^{ty} will likewise recomend it to His Parliam^t at their next meeting to passe an Act for y^e Generall Naturalization of all such Protestants as shall come over as afores^d; and for y^e further enlarging their Libertys and Franchises granted to them by His Ma^{ty} as reasonably may be necessary for them; and for their encouragement His Ma^{ty} is likewise pleased to grant unto them that they shall pay no greater dutyes in any case then His Ma^{ty}'s naturall borne subjects, and that they shall have all the priviledges and imunityes that generally His Ma^{ty}'s native subjects have, for the introduction of their children into schooles and colledges.

And His Ma^{tie} was likewise pleased to order, and it is hereby ordered accordingly, That all His Ma^{ties} officers, both Civill and Military, doe give a kind reception to all such Protestants as shall arrive within any of His Ma^{ties} Ports in this Kingdome, and to furnish them with free Passe Ports, and give them all assistance and furtherance in their journeys to the places to w^{ch} they shall desire to goe. And the Right Hon^{ble} the Lords Comm^{rs} of His Ma^{ty}'s Treasury are to give orders to the Comm^{rs} of His Ma^{ties} Customes to suffer the said Protestants to passe free with their goods and household stuffe, whether of a greater or a smaller value, together with their tooles and instruments belonging to their crafts or trades, and generally all what belongs to them that may be imported according to the Lawes now in force, without exacting any thing from them.

And for the further relief and encouragem^t of y^e s^d necessitous Protestants, His Ma^{tie} hath been pleased to give order for a Generall brief through His Kingdome of England, Dominion of Wales, and Towne of Berwicke, for collecting y^e charity of all well-disposed persons for the reliefe of the said Protestants who may stand in need thereof. And, to the end that when any such come over, being strangers, they may know where to addresse themselves to fitting persons to lay their requests and complaints before His Ma^{tie}, His Ma^{tie} was graciously pleased to appoint the Most Reverend Father in God His Grace the Lord Arch-Bishop of Canterbury, and the R^t Reverend Father in God the Lord Bishop of London, or either of them, to receive all the said requests and petitions, and to present the same to His Ma^{tie}, to the end such order may bee given therein as shall be necessary.

After the order had been made H. Savile, on 21st Nov. 1681, introduced to Sir L. Jenkins a Protestant linendraper who would be able to give him some lights into the method of bringing the manufacture of sail-cloth into England—"the project," he adds, "I have always appeared so fond of." The linendraper was no doubt M. Bonhomme, and under him the manufacture was most prosperously established. In this same year the Company of Elders and Deacons of Threadneedle Street, in London, "supplied the funds for the erection of a linen manufactory at IPSWICH, where a great number of French Protestants had colonised; a Huguenot of Paris, named Bonhomme, taught them to make sail-cloth; and in 1685 this manufacture was in full operation in that thriving town, from whence it spread so rapidly both in England and Ireland, that, according to Macpherson, the importations from France of this article were reduced from the year 1683 to 1733 by the enormous amount of 500,000*l.*;"^a and England was relieved from her dependence on Brittany and Normandy for this important maritime article.

A few years later the manufacture of lutestring was also introduced into Ipswich. On November 28th, 1693, it was agreed that fifty families of "French Protestants that manufacture lutestring shall be admitted inhabitants in this town; and they shall have 20*s.* each family; and the charges of coming to the town shall be found by the town; and they shall have a church minded for them, and an allowance for their minister of 20*l.* a year for two years; and that they shall not be rated or put into any office for seven years; and that Mr. Snelling shall go to London to treat with the Frenchmen about this business."^b

At length, in October 1685, the proclamation known as the Revocation of the Edict of Nantes was issued: and the Visitation of London in 1687 (MS. Coll. of Arms, K. 9), which has some later entries, contains particulars of the following additional families, who, as in the preceeding visitations, being respectively settled and established in this country, were summoned before the Heralds, and had their pedigrees, and, in some cases, their arms recorded or disallowed, as the case might be:—

ABRAHAM BEAKE, citizen and merchant of London; grandson of Francis Beake, who was born in Norwich, whose ancestors came out of Flanders. Arms ^a and ped. (p. 196). X

JOHN CARBONEL, late one of the secretaries to Louis XIV., King of France; and WILLIAM CARBONEL, of London, merchant; grandsons of Nicholas Carbonel, of the parish of Marigni, Visconte de Constantin, gent. Their father was named Thomas, and was a merchant at Caen in Normandy. Arms and ped. (p. 232).

SIR JOHN CHAMPANTE, of Dublin, knt., and of St. Andrew's, Holborn, co. Middlesex, in 1692. He was Deputy Vice Treasurer, Treasurer at War, and Receiver-General for the Kingdom of Ireland, 1671 to 1685. He was great-great-grandson of Gregory Ciampanti, whose son Peter was of London. Arms and ped. (p. 406).

SIR EDWARD DES BOUVERIE, (p. 88) of St. Dunstan's-in-the-East, London, Knt., son of Edward Des Bouverie, who was born at Canterbury, and grandson of Laurence Des Bouverie, of Lisle in Flanders. At Sandwich, in 1568, Laurence Des Bouveryes paid 20s. to the poor for selling Bayes.^b Arms and ped. (p. 219) (from whom the Earl of Radnor descends). The name appears as Desbouuries in the Canterbury Return (post, p. 8). X

JAMES LORDELL of London, merchant; grandson of John L., who came over from Flanders upon the persecution in the time of the Duke d'Alva, and seated in England. Arms allowed upon a certificate of Brabant King of Arms, and ped. (p. 2). X

Peter P., who was born in the Valtolin near Milan in Italy, and came and settled in London, and died about the year 1675. Arms^a and ped. (p. 207). Peter the father married Rachel Albertini, an Italian, by whom he had two sons; James the eldest died about 1622 unmarried; Peter the second married Rebecca, daughter of Peter Fountain of London, merchant. She died 1669. They had three daughters, Rebecca unmarried 1687, Hester died an infant, and Mary. Sir Peter died 29th January, 1696, æt. 59, and was buried at St. Dunstan's-in-the-East, as was also his daughter Mary, who died 3rd May, 1727, æt. 56 years.^b

FRANCIS TYSSEN of London, merchant; son of Francis T. of Gant in Flanders, afterwards of Ulyssing in Zealand. Arms and ped. (p. 16). Apollonia the wife of Daniel, and mother of the first Francis T., was a great-niece of Bishop Ridley. The family is represented by Wm. George Tyssen Amhurst of Foulden, co. Norfolk, lord of the manor of Hackney.^c

SIR EDWARD WALDO, second son of Daniel W., citizen and clothworker, who fined for Alderman and Sheriff, and died 1661. (Ped. p. 330.) Sir Edward had six brothers, of whom Joseph was a silkman in London.

When these Lists were proposed to the Council of the Camden Society to be printed, my late friend Peter Levesque, Esq. F.S.A.,

^a He alleged that his father was an Italian lately come into England. The arms, Ature, a swan argent, were from a vellum escocheon, painted in London, and taken from a seal, the colours being the painter's fancy; Sir Peter did not know what colours belonged to his coat; and the arms do not appear to have been allowed. In Harl. MS. 5802, Le Neve's "Knights' Pedigrees," it is stated that Sir Peter was knighted at Windsor Castle, 19th June, 1687, and that he was a poor lad from Italy, and had been butler to Charles Torriano. and a Member of the Council of our Society, was kind enough to take charge of them with the view of giving from his own peculiar sources of information a somewhat extended notice of such of the families as are still living in this country. His illness prevented him from carrying out his purpose, and on his death the papers were found without any MS. notes. Other circumstances have since arisen which render the inquiries and search more difficult than they would have been, and I must content myself with some very short particulars which, with the aid of Sir Charles George Young, Garter, and of Lancaster and York Heralds, I have been able to bring together with facility.

AUBERTIN, MARY and MARY ANNE (p. 48). Francis A. of the city of Metz in Lorraine, merchant; married Edune Cousturier, and had a son, Paul A. of Metz, who was born 27th July 1612, which Paul married Judith Pierson, by whom he had two sons, John, who was dead in 1718, and Paul A. of Metz, born 7th Nov. 1650. He married Judith Figuier, who was living a widow in 1718. The first-mentioned Paul had also two daughters, whose names are not mentioned in the pedigree. He was grandfather of Peter A., who was born at Neufchâtel; he was for many years a merchant in the city of London,* and retiring to Banstead, Surrey, "to spend the evening of his days," died there 12th June, 1808, in the 83rd year of his age, leaving Ann his widow, who also died there 31st July, 1825, in her 90th year. (M. I. Banstead.) Their son, the Rev. Peter A., vicar of Chipstead, died 9th Nov. 1861, at the age of 81, leaving a numerous family.

AURIOL, JOHN (p. 39), and ISAAC (p. 57). This family came from Lyons, and is still found in England. Henrietta, daughter and heiress of Peter A., of Coleman Street, London, merchant, married 31st Jan. 1748, the hon. Robert Hay, successively Bishop of St. Asaph and Archbishop of York; who succeeded as 9th Earl of Kinross.^a The Rev. Edward A. is rector of St. Dunstan's-in-the-West.

BOSANQUET, DAVID (p. 49), was son of Pierre B. He came from Lunel in Languedoc, and was ancestor of all the numerous branches of the family in England, of whom Sir John Bernard B. was one of H. M. judges. John, the brother of David, was naturalised by Act of Parliament in 1703. A Catholic branch, which remained in France, became extinct about 20 years since. (Ex inf. S. R. Bosanquet, Esq.)^b

CHEVALIER, JOHN (p. 45); DANIEL (p. 49 and 57). Samuel Le C. was minister of the French Church in London in 1591, and in Canterbury in 1595. A pedigree of a family of this name is in the Add. MS. Brit. Mus. 19,123, fol. 51. Another family has been long settled at Ipswich, from whom in the female line the present Member J. Chevalier Cobbold, M.P. is descended. The name is well known in agriculture as that of the introducer of the Chevalier barley.

COLTE, MAXIMILIAN and JOHN (p. 80). The births of these sculptors at Arras are not mentioned by Walpole.

D'AGAR, JACOB (p. 30); THEODORE (p. 37). This family has given the name to Agar Town in St. Pancras, Middlesex.

DANSAYS, FRANCIS (p. 55). The family were residents at Rye. William D., a jurat of that town, died in 1787 (M. I.), and the family are now represented by the Stonhams.^c

EMPEROR, WILLIAM (p. 18). In 1664 John E. of Great Yarmouth issued a Tradesman's token.^d

GARRET, MARK (p. 79), was born in 1561, and died 1635. He was painter to Queen Elizabeth and Anne of Denmark.^a

GUERIN, FRANCIS and NICHOLAS (p. 51). The family long continued at Rye, and are now represented in Sussex by the Crofts.^b

HOVENAGLE, ELEAZAR and JOHN (pp. 16, 17). This family had settled in Sandwich temp. Elizabeth. In 1568 Mahieu H. was one of the "diacres" for making collections for the relief of the poor, and he contributed to their relief in 1571. X

HUGHESSEN, JAMES (p. 12), a native of Dunkirk, settled at Dover. He died at Linsted, in Kent, at the house of his son James H., and was buried in Linsted church, 24th March, 1637, aged eighty. Their pedigree and arms were entered at the Visitation of Kent anno 1663; and the pedigree further continued in Coll. Arm. 8 D. 14, 157. The family is now represented by Edward Knatchbull-Hugessen, M.P. X

JANSSEN, THEODORE (p. 36); ANDREW (p. 51). This family is still flourishing in London and elsewhere.

LA SERRE, JOHN PETER (p. 52). John La Serre, M.D., fled from France on the Revocation of the Edict of Nantes, and settled in the island of Guernsey. Born at Ville Magne, in Languedoc, in 1682; died 10th January, 1774; and was buried at St. Peter's Port, Guernsey. He married Esther, daughter of Peter Whitehead, of Guernsey, ancestor of the family now resident in Guernsey.

^a He is also called Garrard, Gerarts, Gerard, Guerards, Garrats, and Gerardus. In Walpole's Anecdotes of Painters there is a notice of him, and it is stated that "among the Sidney Papers at Fenshurst was a letter from Sir Robert Sidney to his lady, about 1597, desiring her to go to Mr. Garrat's, and pay him for the picture of her and the children, so long done and unpaid." In the last edition of Bryan's Dictionary of Painters and Engravers (1849), there is considerable doubt expressed as to the accuracy of these dates, but the writer was evidently not aware that there was another Mark Gerrard, the father of the one now in question, who was also an artist, and with whom he has confounded him. (Ex inf. Wm. Smith, esq. F.S.A.) ^b Sussex Arch. Coll. vol. xiii. p. 207.

LE CHEVENIX, PHILIP (p. 34). The family went over to Ireland, and were at Portarlington. On 15th January, 1745-6, Richard Chenevix, Bishop of Killaloe, was translated to Waterford and Lismore.^a X LE FEVRE or LE FEBVRE, JOSHUA (p. 32); DANIEL (p. 51); LEWIS and SAMUEL (p. 55). The name was originally spelt Le Febvre. The family have been of long standing as medical men. On 15th November, 1660, Nicasius Le Febvre was appointed chemist to Charles II. with a fee of 150*l.* a year. In December of the same year, the name was changed to Nicholas Le Febvre, and he was granted the offices of Chemist and Apothecary in Ordinary to the Royal Family, with a like fee.^b Sebastian Le F. M.D. of Anjou was admitted a Licentiate of the College of Physicians, London, 22nd December, 1684.^c From the French family of this name, long settled in Spitalfields, where they had a vault, Lord Eversley is maternally descended. His mother, Helena, the only daughter of John Le F. of Old Ford (who ob. 1800), married Charles Shaw of Lincoln's Inn, who took the name and arms of Le F. in July, 1789.

LOUZADA, J. B. (p. 52). Jacob Baruh Lousada, of the city of London, son of Emanuel Baruh Lousada, of the island of Jamaica, died in October, 1753, and was buried at Mile-End. He married

^a See Ulster Journal of Archaeology, vol. iii. p. 223, and iv. p. 215.

^b On 19th Oct. 1661, there arrived for Nicholas Le F. 36 packs of instruments, drugs, and chemical materials, which were to be discharged at St. James, free from Customs. He did not, however, obtain his fees, and when he claimed them the Board of Green Cloth reported that there was but one apothecary allowed for the household, and the place was settled on John Jones. In March 1663 he obtained an order for a fee of 40*l.* a year, and in April 60*l.* a year for board wages, 12*l.* a year for bouche of Court, and 4*l.* 19*s.* 6*d.* a month for fuel for laboratory; yet the salary was paid only to the preceding December, and on the settlement of the Household, only one apothecary being again allowed, no provision was made for Le Febvre. Again his arrears were paid, and in Feb. 1664 he was properly added to the Household.—Mrs. Green's Cal. Dom. S. P. O. Charles II.

^c Munk, Roll of the College of Physicians, vol. i. p. 405.

Abigail, daughter of Isaac Lamego, of Jamaica, by whom he had a family, some of whose descendants are living.^a MARTINEAU, GASTON (p. 56). In the French church at Norwich is a tablet in memory of "Gaston M. of Dieppe, surgeon, who left France on the Revocation of the Edict of Nantes in 1685, and settled at Norwich in 1695; and of David M. his son, likewise a skilful surgeon. He married Elizabeth Finch, by whom he left one son and two daughters, and died 29th May, 1729, aged thirty-two. And also of his son David M. born in 1726, and who died 19th November, 1768, aged forty-two, also a surgeon. He married Sarah Meadows, who died in 1800." They were all buried in that church.

The last-mentioned David M. had five sons, Philip Meadows (a surgeon), David, Peter Finch, John, and Thomas; and from these Miss Harriet M. and all the present family of Martineau have descended. (Ex inf. J. Fred. Martineau, Esq.)

MENDEZ, FERDINANDO (p. 52), was physician in ordinary to Catherine the Queen Dowager of Charles II. He was created a fellow of the College of Physicians in London by the charter of James II., and was admitted 12th April, 1687.^b

METIVIER, JOHN (p. 46). A family of this name is of note in Guernsey, and one member is connected by marriage with the very ancient family of PRIAULX there.

^a Grants Coll. of Arms, vol. xiii. fol. 255.

^b Munk, vol. i. p. 434. From the foundation of the College of Physicians in London, many foreigners were admitted, and in addition to the names already given Dr. Munk mentions the following among the admissions between 1681 and 1689:—

JOHN DUFRAY, M.D. of Montpellier; Lic. 1 Oct. 1688.

JOHN GROENVELT, M.D. of Daventer in Holland, Lic. 2 April, 1683.

PHILIP GUIDE, M.D. of Montpellier, Lic. the same day.

JOSHUA LE FLEURE, created a fellow by charter of James II., admitted 12 April, 1687.

LEWIS LE VASEUR, a Parisian; Lic. 2 Oct. 1683.

JOSEPH MAUCLEER, M.D. of Montpellier; Lic. 8 June, 1689.

HENRY MORBELLI, an Italian; Lic. 25 June, 1684.

JOHN PEACHI of Caen; Lic. 26 July, 1683.

MINET, AMBROSE and ISAAC (p. 58). Ambrose M. was born about 1605 at Cormon or its vicinity in Picardy. He was a freeman and inhabitant of Calais, and died there in 1675. He married Susan Haffrongue, by whom he had a numerous family, who were dispersed in consequence of the Revocation of the Edict of Nantes. His widow, and sons Thomas and Isaac, landed at Dover in 1686. Thomas settled at Canterbury; and Isaac, who was born at Calais in 1660, settled in London with his brother Ambrose. The pedigree and arms of this family were recorded in Coll. Arm. in the latter part of the last century.^a MORILLON, JACOB and ANDRE (p. 8); ROBERT (p. 9); JOHN (p. 10). The family have continued in Kent to the present time.

OUVRI, JAMES, (p. 39), also used as a Christian name by the Rousseau family (p. 53), became settled in Spitalfields, and were owners of freeholds there in the early part of the last century. Frederic Ouvry, Esq., now Treasurer of the Society of Antiquaries, traces his descent from John Ouvry, b. 1707 and ob. 1774, who married Mary Beauvoir, and had two daughters, one of whom, Magdalen, died unmarried in 1755, and the other, Mary, married Peter Saubergue; and one son, Peter, who married Francisca, eldest daughter of Aimé Garnault, of Coleman Street, and Bull's Cross, Enfield, a proprietor of lands in Beds,^b and granddaughter of Aymé G., a family of note in Picardy, but now extinct in the male line in England. The father of Sir Samuel Romilly^c married Margaret, only d. of Aymé G., sen., and aunt of Francisca O. The eldest son of Peter and Francisca O. was Peter Aimé O., who married Sarah Amelia Delamain, and left six children: the Rev. Peter O., married, and has issue; Lieut.-Col. Henry Aimé O., C.B., married; Frederic O., Treas.S.A., married; Rev. John North Ouvry North; Francisca Ingram O.; and Sarah Mary O., married Francis Sibson, M.D., F.R.S. The name still continues in the neighbourhood of Dieppe.

^b Her sister Anne married Cuthbert Fisher, and her sister Sarah Mary married Thomas Ingram. MS. Coll. Arms, Q. 1, fol. 107.

^c Peter Romilly, the father, was born in 1684 at Montpellier in France, and came to England from Geneva, which he visited in 1701. (Memoirs of Sir Samuel Romilly, i. pp. 2-4.) The Master of the Rolls is not therefore a descendant of one of the refugees driven out of France on the revocation of the Edict of Nantes.

PAGET, CÆSAR (p. 47). A French family of this name, still flourishing in Leicestershire, was settled there in the time of Elizabeth by Valerian P. He had a son Leonard, whose descendant, Thomas P. of Humberstone, is the present head of the family, and Charles P., one of the younger branch, is now M.P. for Nottingham. This Cæsar was however of a different family.

PALLAVICINI, J. C. (p. 28). A portion of this family was settled in London as early as 1581, when Horatio P., who was an Italian of the state of Genoa, was returned as one of the strangers who did not go to church,^a and in 1588 he subscribed 300*l.* towards the loan to the queen,^b Nicholas de Gozzi being the only other stranger who subscribed so large an amount. Horatio P., who was of Babraham, co. Camb. was knighted, and was of considerable importance in the reign of Elizabeth. Many particulars of him are given in Malcolm's Londinium Redivivum, vol. i. pp. 344-5, and in Hawkins's edition of Ignoramus, p. x.^c His funeral achievements are displayed in the MSS. of the College of Arms, I. 16, and there is an elaborate pedigree of the family in Litta's Celebrated Italian Families, vol. iii. James Crosby, Esq., F.S.A., has kindly sent me the following extracts from the parish registers of London:—

^a Burn, p. 7 n. ^b Ib. p. 11.

^c The tradition is, that he came into England in the reign of Mary to collect the Pope's dues or taxes. On Mary's death he became a Protestant, procured letters of naturalization, and pocketed the money he had received for the Pope. This story was perhaps invented by way of accounting for the pecuniary troubles of his descendants.

ST. BOTOLPH, BISHOPSGATE. Baptisms: 1600, April 25, Henry the sonne of Sir Horatio Paulavicino, kn^t, baptized. Y^e Countess of Shrosburie, the yeonge, deputie for y^e Queenes Majestie, being godmother; the Lord Treasurer and y^e Earle of Shrosburie godfathers.

ST. GILES, CHIPPLEGATE. Baptisms: 1612-3, Jan. 12, Katherine, daughter of Edward Paulavizene, gent.

Several members of this family married into that of Cromwell.

X PAPHILLON, DAVID (p. 88). The family were till lately of Acrise Place, Kent, and are now of Crowhurst, Sussex; having intermarried with an heiress of the Pelhams. David was imprisoned three years at Avranches on account of his religion. Thomas P. sat for Dover temp. Charles II., and for London 10th Wm. III. Philip O. P. is now M.P. for Colchester. See also Burke's Landed Gentry, p. 996.

PIGOU, JOHN (p. 35); STEPHEN (p. 40); JAMES (p. 41). The family have continued in Sussex and Kent, and still carry on the manufacture of gunpowder.

RICKEWARD, JACOB (pp. 15 and 16). The name has been slightly corrupted, but the family remain in Sussex.

ROUSSEL, ROWAIN (p. 36); JACOB (p. 53); ISAAC (p. 72). Through the favour of Joseph Gwilt, Esq., F.S.A., I can give the following particulars of this family. Laurens R. was born at Quillebœuf, 3rd Oct. 1599. His direct descendant, Isaac R., disembarked in London in 1699, from whom descended a R. who married Sir Griffith Meredith, a daughter of whom, Mary Griffith, born June 15th, 1744, married Jan. 16th, 1768, Peter Beuzeville, of Spitalfields. They had two daughters,—Susanna; and Bridget B. born 21st Oct. 1770, who married, 1795, John Curtis Byles, born 1777: she died 17th March, 1829, and he in 1833. Their second son, John Beuzeville Byles, born 1801, married in 1827 Martha Soundy, and is still living at Henley-on-Thames, where, as at Reading, Pangbourne, and other places on the banks of the Thames, silk-mills formerly existed.

TORIN, DANIEL (p. 36); ABRAHAM (p. 37); ELIZABETH (p. 57); SAMUEL (p. 59). The descendants are yet living.

TURQUAND, PETER (p. 48). The family were of Chatel-herault, in the department of Vienne, near Poitiers, and are still in London.

VARENNES, JOHN DE (p. 50). The family still remains in England. The Rev. G. V., D.D., rector of Westley-Waterless, co. Cambridge, left an only daughter, the wife of the Rev. Jos. Gill, rector of Staplehurst, Kent, who took the name of Varenne, by licence, 25th April, 1816. Ezekiel G. V. is now a surgeon in Essex.

In the days when these returns were made, the silk manufacture in England existed only in London and Canterbury.* The freemen of the city of London carrying on the trade of Silk-throwers were erected into a fellowship by an order of the Court of Aldermen in the reign of James I.; but, finding themselves too weak to rectify abuses and establish ordinances for the true working of that trade, by which 6,000 or 7,000 poor people were relieved or sustained, they petitioned Charles I. for a charter of incorporation, which was granted 23rd April 1629. The ordinances were allowed on the 20th July, 1629. After the Restoration the charter was enlarged by Act of Parliament in 1662 (14 Car. II. c. 15), by which it was enacted that no person in England should use the trade except after a seven years' apprenticeship, under a penalty of forty shillings a month: and all masters then using the trade, and all who had been apprentices for seven years, and were within London or Westminster, or within twenty miles, were before the 25th December, 1662, to be admitted into the Company. At this time the preamble states that above forty thousand persons were employed by the company in and about London. They have never enforced their compulsory powers against persons carrying on trade above twenty miles from London. The statute prohibits them from fixing trade prices.^a

* At Norwich, Sandwich, and Colchester, stuffs, baizes, and sayes were manufactured.

The Silkmen of London also once ranked as a City Company. They were incorporated by letters patent, 30th May, 1631, and on the 16th March following a proclamation was issued from Newmarket for the well ordering of the silk trade throughout England,^b but nothing is now known concerning the Company.^c

The Silk-weavers of Canterbury obtained their charter in 1676.

It was not until 1719 that Mr (afterwards Sir Thomas) Lombe and his brother erected at Derby the famous silk-mill for throwing silk, from models which he had clandestinely obtained from Italy. From that time the manufacture spread itself widely; and I cannot conclude this Introduction better than by stating that in a list, prepared by Josiah Robinson, Esq., of the places in England in which the throwing is now carried on, there are enumerated sixty-two towns or places, of which the principal are: Bruton, Somerset; Coggleshall; Congleton; Coventry; Derby; Devizes; Evesham; Frome; Gloucester; Huddersfield; Leek; Macclesfield; Manchester; Newcastle-under-Lyne; Norwich; Nottingham; St. Alban's; Sandbach, Cheshire; Stroud, Gloucester; Sudbury; Taunton; Tewkesbury; Tiverton; Tring, Herts; and Watford.

^a Report of Municipal Corporation Commissioners, 1835, p. 294.

^b Bruce's Cal. S. P. O. Dom. vol. ccxiv. In the next year the silk dyers of London complained that an Act prepared in the preceding year for preventing abuses in silk dyeing had not been passed, and prayed for a separate incorporation, as persons brought up to the trade would better search into the abuses of dyeing. (Ib. S. P. O. Dom. vol. cccxix.)

COLCHESTER.—Complaints of the English against the Dutch strangers.

Michaell Cock, Alien borne, bay and saymaker; buyeth and selleth sayes to forryners besides those that he makes.

Frances Toispill, Alien; doth the like.

Isaacke Size, borne here of Dutch parentes; apprentice to a carde maker, and doth use the same trade, and sellethe Aliens' goodes brought from beyonde the seas as a factor for them.

Samuëll de Heame, borne here of Dutch parentes; by profession and trade a come maker, who, upon his promise to deale with nothinge but that which concernes his trade, because he had beene troubled by informers, obteyned to be a free man of this towne, yet he now keepeth a coñon shopp in his house, and selleth all manner of lynnene cloath and haberdashers' wares by retayle.

Thomas Benne, borne here of Dutch parentes; his trade a Bay and saymaker and weaver, he is now a beerebruer, a malster, a farmer, a maker of Bay cheanes and sendes them [to] Sandw^{ch}, and farmeth landes about 100^{li} per ann.

Jasper Vanhulst, an Alien borne; a saymaker, and is a marchant and factor for strangers.

John Valender, borne here of Dutch parentes; a Baymaker by his profession, and is a factor for strangers.

Hugh de Lobell, an alien borne; A saymaker; he is a marchant and factor for strangers.

Samuell de Gavake, borne here of Dutch parentes; he hath erected and sett upp a new Brewhouse; he maketh vinegar and aquevita; he is a dier, a marchant, and factor for strangers.

John Miller; he is by profession a scholer, brought upp in the universitie, and is now a marchant and factor for strangers.

Josias Snace, a Bay and Say maker; his wife selleth blacke, broune, and white threadd, all sortes of bone lace, valure gardes, and other comodities which they receive out of Holland.

Isaacke Bowman, an Alyen borne; by his profession a chirurgeon, and useth the same; he is a marchant and factor for strangers, selleth in his house all maner of Lynnen cloth, stuffes, bone laces, and such like, oyles, hoppes, and other comodities, to the great greevance and hinderance of the free-burgisses.

Charles Toispill, an alyen borne, and a single man aboute the age of xxij yeares; he is a marchant and factor for strangers.

Michaell de Groate, an Alien borne; useinge the Trade of a fringe-maker by the space of 25 yeres, and before that a Bayemaker, and now a Beerebrewer, a malster, and a farmer.

The Englishe tailors within this Corporacion, beinge about fowrescore, complaine that divers strangers borne doe much hinder them in useing the trade within this towne, contrarie to lawe, and doe desire reformation by suppressing of them.

WILLIAM MOTT,
THOMAS THURSTON, } Bailiffs.

The English Wyerdrawers complaine that they are much hindred in there trade, and cannott sett themselves on worcke to maintaine themselves and famelic by reasone the strangers doe send for such quanteties of wyer readie wrought from beyonde the seacs, and doe worcke some of yt into Cardes, and a greate parte they sell to others; whereof they doe humblie desire reformacion, and that the strangers may be restrayned.

REPORT OF THE COUNCIL OF
THE CAMDEN SOCIETY,

ELECTED 3rd MAY, 1861.

THE Council of the Camden Society, elected on the 3rd May, 1861, refers with pleasure to the Report of the Auditors for evidence of the satisfactory state of the Society's finances, but regrets to state that, during the past year, the numbers of the Society have been reduced by the deaths of many most valuable and influential Members.

In common with every other Institution in the country which has for its objects the encouragement of Literature, Science, or Art, the Camden Society has to deplore the loss of one Member, distinguished not more by exalted position than by extensive acquirements, and by the enlightened spirit in which he exercised the influence derived from those circumstances, for the welfare of all classes of the community. The Council feels that in thus acknowledging the high merits of the ILLUSTRIOUS PRINCE, whose loss has been so deeply and earnestly lamented, and its sympathy with Her Majesty under this heavy trial, expression is only given to the feelings by which the whole Society is animated.

The Council has also to regret the death of one of the original founders of the Society, JOSEPH HUNTER, Esq., lately a Vice-President of the Society of Antiquaries, and one of the Assistant Keepers of the Public Records. Mr. Hunter not only gave the Council for many years the advantage of his extensive antiquarian learning, but also edited for the Society the volume of Ecclesiastical Documents published in 1839-40, and the Diary of Thomas Cartwright, Lord Bishop of Chester, published in 1842-3.

The Council has further to deplore the loss of the following Members:—

His Grace the DUKE OF BEDFORD, K.G.

THOMAS BROADWOOD, Esq.

The Right Hon. LORD CAMPBELL, Lord High Chancellor.

Rev. EDWARD CARDWELL, D.D. Camden Professor of History at Oxford.

Rev. JOHN CARR, M.A.

JAMES DEARDEN, Esq., F.S.A.
 JOHN GOATE FISHER, Esq.
 SIR ISAAC LYON GOLDSMID, Bart. F.R.S. F.S.A.
 REV. EDW. CRAVEN HAWTREY, D.D. F.S.A. Provost of Eton.
 DAVID IRVING, Esq.
 CHARLES LEVER, Esq.
 JOHN SHANK MORE, Esq.
 The Hon. SIR JOHN PATTESON, M.A.
 EDWARD JOHN RUDGE, Esq.
 SAMUEL LEIGH SOTHEBY, Esq. F.S.A.
 ADAM URQUHART, Esq.
 ALEX. MACONCHIE WELLWOOD, Esq.

During the present year the following Publications have been issued to the Members:—

Letters of John Chamberlain, Esq. to Sir Dudley Carleton, during the reign of Elizabeth. Edited by Miss SARAH WILLIAMS.

Proceedings in the County of Kent in 1640. Edited by the Rev. LAMBERT B. LARKING, M.A.

Parliamentary Debates in 1610. From the Notes of a Member of the House of Commons. Edited by SAMUEL RAWSON GARDINER, late Student of Christchurch.

The first is a volume of very amusing character, abounding in gossip and personal allusions; and, from the care with which it is edited, the Society will feel the loss which historical literature has sustained by the early death of its accomplished Editor.

The Proceedings in the County of Kent contribute a vast amount of new and valuable information upon a very important period of our history; and the same may well be said of the volume of the Parliamentary Debates in 1610, in which is detailed at far greater length than has hitherto been recorded the commencement of the great struggle between the Crown and the House of Commons.

The following Articles have been added to the List of Suggested Publications during the past year:—

A Collection of Letters from Sir Robert Cecil to Sir George Carew. To be edited from the Originals, in the library at Lambeth, by JOHN MACLEAN, Esq. F.S.A.

Narrative of the Services of M. Dumont Bostaquet in Ireland. To be edited by Rev. JOHN WEBB, M.A., F.S.A.

A Collection of Letters of Margaret of Anjou, Bishop Beckington, &c. From a MS. formerly belonging to the Puleston Family. To be edited by CECIL MONRO, Esq.

The Council has further the pleasure of announcing, that Mr. Way, whose labours on the Promptorium were interrupted by his removal into the country, has kindly taken advantage of a temporary visit to London to resume his task. The Council trusts that, in the course of the present year, the Members will receive the conclusion of this important work; unquestionably the most valuable contribution to philological knowledge which has been published for many years.

The endeavours so frequently made by former Councils to procure increased facilities for searches for literary purposes among the Registers of Early Wills in the Prerogative Court are doubtless in the recollection of the Members. Those endeavours have not proved in vain. A small room for literary inquirers has now been set apart at Doctors' Commons. Literary persons are indebted to Sir Cresswell Cresswell, the Judge of the Prerogative Court, for this valuable concession, which it may reasonably be hoped will contribute to the greater accuracy of all future genealogical and historical publications.

The present Council has shared the anxiety of all former Councils to maintain unimpaired the high character of the Society's publications. In this respect the Council deems that all friends of the Society have much reason to be proud. The eighty-one volumes which have now been published by the Society* contain many works of singular and first-rate historical importance; among them are of course some of more value and some of less, but there are none which can be pronounced to have been unworthy of publication. The literary future of the Society seems equally full of hope. Some of the recent volumes are among the most interesting and the best edited; Editors in every way competent present themselves whenever needed, whilst the store of unpublished materials applicable to the purposes of the Society seems inexhaustible. Under such circumstances all future Councils will, no doubt, feel deeply the responsibility which rests upon them, and sedulously endeavour, as the present Council has done, to maintain the high standard of publication which has been set before them.

By order of the Council,

JOHN BRUCE, Director.

WILLIAM J. THOMS, Secretary.

16th April, 1862.

* Eighty volumes are enumerated in Mr. Nichols's "Descriptive Catalogue of the Works of the Camden Society." The valuable work edited by Mr. Gardiner has since been published.
